THE EQUADRON.

The Ships Encountered a Terrible Storm Off Charleston—Lost Coal.

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 9.—The United States warships New York, Maine, Columbia, Amphitrite and Marblehead arrived off Charleston bar Monday, after a terrible experience with the storm, which swept the south Atlantic coast Friday and Saturday.

The Cruiser Columbia and the battleships Maine were sighted from Sullivan's island early in the forenoon and the flagship New York, the monitor Amphitrite and the gunboat Marblehead steamed into raw later, the flagship being the last of the squadron to reach an anchorage to the north of the Charleston nightship. All five of the vessels are now at anchor about two miles off the bar. Admiral Bunce's fleet ran straight into the teeth of a terrific storm on Friday night. The ships were 43 miles off the North Carolina coast and well below Hatteras and while the storm was raging it was willing to discuss their experience, it was evident that they had been in peril. Secretary Herbert of the navy was visited by representatives of the United Associated Presses Monday and was learned that the actual casualties consisted of the loss of coal and the seriously injured and minor injuries to all the vessels themselves. The battleship Maine had five feet of water in her hold, three of them losing their lives. The Marblehead lost one man killed and six injured.

The Marblehead lost Ship Carpenter Strawhat who was dashed to death by the sea. His body was swept overboard at sea Sunday beeen of the carpenter's gang who were at work on the sea anchor when the vessel struck the superstructure of the ship by the sea and more or less injured.

The admiral signaled from the New York by the ships to stand together. The storm was blowing from the southeast. It steadily increased during the night, and the fleet ships were pressed by the heads did the New York roll that the big eight-inch guns in the turret were buried down with the waves and a precaution. During the storms heavy seas rolled over the stern and the aft compartments were flooded below, which went down into the officers quarters. The gun ports and torpedo tubes also let the water in. There was plenty of water inside. The boatswain, Wm. Anderson, while at the forward deck, was washed from his feet by a sea and injured by being dashed aft. Naval Cadet Castle was also washed forward quarter-deck and sustained a bruising of the left side. Gunner Jones of Co. B, Carr and Private Bell.

THE Tennessee Legislature has passed a law enting down all efficers' salaries. It is nothing but that Gov. Taylor will veto the bill

GOVERNOR BRADLEY last week promptly pardoned the nine-year-old boy sent to the penitentiary from Boyd county for stealing.

MRS. JAS. KORNOR, a wife of 20 years and the mother of 11 children, has sued her husband for divorce at Paducah, alleging cruel treatment.

IN Logan county, this State, the fall sitting of the Circuit Court was the first one in forty years on the calendar of which there was no murder case.

SECRETARY CARLISLE, it is now said, will resume the practice of law either at Louisville or New York, although he has a good offer to locate in Chicago.

ACCORDING to the Louisville Post's appeal for aid, there are in Louisville 12,000 people naked and starving, who are being supported by public and private charity.

THE Louisville Star thinks there is no necessity for the business men to put lightning rods on their houses to prevent "prosperity" lightning from striking them too hard.

THE time for holding the next meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association has been decided upon. The meeting will be held in Bowling Green on June 29 and 30 and July 1.

LAST November the voters of Clinton county, Iowa, gave Mr. McKinley a majority of 900. Last week, in a special election to fill a vacancy in the Legislature, the Democratic candidate, ex-Congressman Hays, was elected by a majority of about 500, over the regular Republican candidate, Mr. Barker, a popular citizen, a man of the most exemplary character a member of the Baptist church and prominent in Y. M. C. A. work. This is a straw that indicates how much the people are dissatisfied with Republican promises of restored confidence and prosperity, it is also an indication that the vote in Iowa last November was not counted as it was cast.—Elizabethtown News.

Judge N. P. Moss.

It is with pleasure that we call attention to the announcement of Judge N. P. Moss, who desires to be re-elected Circuit Judge of this Judicial District.

Judge Moss is now serving his first term as circuit judge, and we can say without any qualms of conscience that the district never had a better judge. Aside from his mental attainments and legal ability Judge Moss is blessed in those charms of person which go to adorn the bench. He is affable, courtly and dignified. He is broad minded, equable and even tempered. He adds to the law the measure of prudence and tempers justice with moderation.

As a citizen and practitioner at the bar he is known and honored by all of our people and needs no introduction to them. To the voters of neighboring counties he is almost as well known and, we believe, as highly esteemed, for his duties during the past five years have kept him in touch with the whole district.

While it is improbable that the party machinery will be invoked in the judicial race, yet we are glad to say that Judge Moss is a candidate and subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Democracy is the creed of equal rights, and privileges, subject to the action of his party.—Clinton Democrat.

A Novel Proposition.

A Populist member of the Kansas Legislature has conceived a novel plan to do away with elections in that State. He has prepared and will introduce a bill for disposing of county offices by auction to the lowest bidder. In substance, it provides that on the first day of January of each year the applicants for county offices shall submit bids stating the minimum amount for which they will serve the county in a stated capacity. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $50 as an earnest of good faith. These bids are to be opened by the Sheriff and County Clerk. The successful applicant will then be permitted to move into the Courthouse, while the cash deposits will be returned to the other bidders.

Suffering in Louisana.

Advices from the dreadth stricken parishes of Louisiana are to the effect that 30,000 people are in destitute circumstances, and unless relief is offered suffering and starvation are bound to result.

Six weeks ago relief committees made a canvass of the district over which want exercised dominion, and found 23,000 men, women and children, mainly of the farming class, whose condition demanded that they be sustained during the unfruitful season. The extreme severity of this winter will add some upon these destitute people and now their number is 30,000, and distress has become misery.

Men are gaunt and famishing, and in rags. Women are starving and walking through the winter barefooted; children are wasting and dying. Newspaper correspondents have refused to go into the district, because in this weather and owing to the dearth of food, their lives would be in danger. Some bold ones have ventured, however, and their stories are heartrending. The sufferers promptly disclaim any desire of beggars they ask a loan till Providence shall again smile on them and give them time to plant their crops. At harvest time they will repay their debts. The press of the State is urging the charitable to contribute and the cities and towns are responding readily and generously.

NOAH FRANKLIN has been arrested and is in jail at Benton, charged with the murder of Daisy Sullivan, who was killed by a bullet assassin in the hall of her parents' house October 30, last. Detective W. A. Wickliffe, of Paducah, worked up the case against Franklin, and there is said to be some bad evidence in it for the accused. There are rewards aggregating $700 out for the murderer.—Wickliffe Yeoman.

MISS BRECKINRIDGE has been licensed to practice law. Every woman should know the law. Every woman should practice the law. The profession is rough enough on men, who knew that the wrong is right and the right is wrong, but angels parents might blunt the sense of honesty of a woman and doubtless influence her decisions. A familiar contemplation of rascality that would end in the depravity or a total loss of a sense of justice would lead the labyrinths of the chicanery of legal technicalities. A woman should never be taught to use commerce of truth and justice.—Vicksburg Democrat.

EX-CONGRESSMAN BEN BUTTERWORTH the well known Republican of Ohio, said in a recent interview that he was fully convinced that bimetallism must be restored to as one of the principal elements of o return to prosperity. Whether it will come as actual free coinage of silver is yet problematical" and I do not. It will come in some such way, however. The promised era of prosperity is easily absent. I don't think it will consist with a revision of the tariff to any great extent. The only tariff laws that could do the country any good would be such as would directly improve the position of the laboring men and produce sufficient money to properly conduct the affairs of the Government. The idea of high protection, I believe, as the people know of me, is very bad. Under the McKinley bill, as it existed, there was a system of partnership between the manufacturers and the Government, by which great revenues were derived by extortionate taxation of the masses.

GRAINS AND SHAMS.

All the redeeming features of the new tariff bill, as far as the schedules are completed are found in its points of departure from the McKinley law and its points of agreement with the Democratic tariff law.

These redeeming features are few and are offset by tariff abominations which cannot fail to press heavily upon the people. Deep resentment will be aroused when the full force of their effects is felt and the full knowledge of their purpose is realized. Roughly speaking, the bill may be divided into grains and shams. In order to create the impression of equality, apparent compensation is offered to producers for the real protection given to the manufacturers in a lot of sham protections.

Tariffs on meats and the products of the field and farm are offered, though every farmer who knows enough to take his plow out of the rain knows that as long as this country raises a surplus of these products, which must be sold to foreign markets, protective tariffs on them are frauds and farces.

But the protection of fraudulent shams, which rival those known as outrages. What kind of a government is it which in the face of widespread distress, when those ands are on the verge of starvation, proposes to enhance the price of food stuffs by monopolistic laws?

But the Republican party has not refrained from pinching the suffering for the benefit of its favorites. It proposes to tax the blankets and clothing needed by the shivering; it proposes to tax the salt that makes food palatable; it proposes to make the materials for houses and tools deserving it proposes to tax even the seeds required to raise a crop.

If revenue only were wanted, small taxes on luxuries would suffice, but they would not be so profitable to party favorites as taxes on the necessaries of the people. They would not repay heavy campaign contributions.—St. Louis Republic.

It Was No Fake.

Mr. Tom Beadles, of Fulton, was in town Wednesday, and says the assault on Miss Carver, north of Fulton, is a fact. The opinion now is thought that it was a white man with his face blackened. A young man who had been at work for Mr. Carver and left when the crime was committed, is strongly suspected. Investigation of the matter is still being carried on.—Mayfield Mirror.

An unfortunate state of affairs is reported from the home of Miss Lydia Carver, who was so brutally outraged a few days since. Miss Carver, who has been in a delicate condition since the assault has grown very despondent [illegible] The first news of the [illegible] administration has passed over the press [illegible] that has not [illegible] skip to Cuba, and none of the other fiscal officers have been feend to be defaulters, there has been shown to be an utter incompetence to manage the affairs of state. The officials of two asylums and one penitentiary have been shown to be utterly incompetent to be in charge of such institutions. The promised reforms have not been forthcoming. The State treasury is empty, the Central Lunatic brawl, and more attention is being paid to the succession of Senator Blackburn to the welfare of the State.—Paducah Register.

TO PREVENT MOBS.

A bill to protect the lives and property of persons against mobs was introduced in the House last week by Representative Stewart, of Wisconsin. It provides that the city or county in which mob violence results in the destruction of property or injury to or loss of life, shall be liable for damages, and action may be brought against the officers of the law for neglect of duty. In case of death a sum not exceeding $5,000 shall be awarded the relatives of the deceased. When the general government in the case of a foreign city pays the indemnity, it can bring action for recovery against the State in which such person was killed.

More About the Carver Outrage.

A special telegram from Mayfield, to the Commercial—Appeal, dated 8th inst., says: As will be remembered, a white girl, Lydia Carver, living a miles from Fulton, was outraged by a negro on the 27th of January in a stable at her home. All search for the brute was fruitless.

About a week before the crime was committed a man named Waltz, wanted for murder in an adjoining State, visited his sister, Mrs. Mordlin, on the farm of Mr. Carver, and in trying to keep himself concealed aroused suspicion.

The report gained circulation that this man, with blackened face, committed the crime. Saturday night a mob of twenty men took him to a schoolhouse in the neighborhood, also a 12 year-old son of Mrs. Mordlin and roughly handled them, trying to learn who committed the crime, but got no information. Then the mob took Mr. Mordlin to the woods, placed a rope around his neck and tried to get information, but Mordlin pleaded and swore he knew nothing. His son also roughly handled being choked into insensibility. The men unmasked and many were recognized by Mordlin. Mrs. Mordlin was prostrated, and the excitement prodneed a miscarriage. Mordlin has filed suit for $30,000, and the case is to come up at the May term of court.

Robertson and Thomas of this city and J. C. Flournoy of Fulton have been employed by Mordlin as counsel. There is the greatest excitement over the matter and much interest.

—What is it that a fellow went do when he is a candidate? The Hopkinsville Kentuckian says that Judge Cooper, a 200 pounder, who is a candidate for re-election, went coon hunting with a lot of the boys in Bath county the other night. The dogs treed and the Judge gained one coon and several votes by climbing the tree and shaking out the game.

PENSION AGENCIES.

The President has signed, on the recommendation of Secretary of the Interior Francis, an important order reducing the number of pension agencies in the United States from 18 to 9. The object of the order is to effect a very large saving to the government by thus reducing the disbursing of pensions, which amendment was approved March 23, 1896. It required that all pensioners should, after that date be paid by checks sent by mail.

Reports from the pension agencies in which inquiries as to the operation of the new law were to the effect that under it the pensioners are paid more promptly. The order will take effect September 1, its operation being postponed in order that no pensioner should suffer inconvenience from the change of delay in receiving his pension, and to give ample time for the removal of the records and records from the agencies discontinued.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Anyway, men don't steal each other's hat pins or eat oneing [illegible] conjugium.

Most girls think married life is a perpetual banquet with ice cream to wash.

It is probable that the Nineteenth women didn't wear theater bonnets in Jeh's day.

When a girl is twitted about being thrown down she says: "Oh, well, you can't see a man forever, you knew."

When neither one has a good reason, a man generally agrees shallow by giving a poor one; but a women always tries to seem deep by giving none at all.

When a woman is first married she wonders what takes place of marriage in heaven. After she's been married a few years she isn't particular what it is.—New York Press.

REPUBLICAN MISMANAGEMENT

Every time additional Republican rascality and mismanagement are shown some nauseous Republican hypocrite rises to his feet and yells, 'Dick Tate." It is true that Dick Tate was a Democratic administration laid bare the whole facts before the people, and used every effort to capture the criminal. The 'look at the books' for which the republican mouthpieces of Louisville are so accordial these last year, and if they [illegible] nothing further they have [illegible] The first news of the [illegible] administration has passed over the press [illegible] that has not [illegible] skip to Canada, and none of the other fiscal officers have been feend to be defaulters, there has been shown to be an utter incompetence to manage the affairs of state. Extra Session.

It is again reported from Frankfort that Gov. Bradley will shortly call an extra session of the Legislature, and that he has mapped out the following for its consideration: The passage of a revenue bill, election of a United States Senator, the reorganization of the State Insane Legislative and Senatorial districts and a general gerrymander of the State, the passage of a bill for the suppression of mob violence, the creation of a commission for the management of State institutions, the creation of two new Judges for the Louisville Circuit Court, clerical assistance for the oil of the Apellate Court.

BENTON WILSON was liberated from the Washington state penitentiary during the holidays on a pardon, after serving two years of a long sentence that he had received on a confession of murder, which he had made to shield his father. The two were charged two years ago with the murder of Benton Wilson's brother-in-law, and the father being tried first and the prospect being dark for him, his son got up and confessed that he did the killing.

—There are a great many who look upon the magistrate's office as an insignificant one, and it is in compensation, but otherwise it is one of the most significant of all. The magistrates control the finance of the county, and the people of each district should see that the best business men are elected to this office. The magistrates are responsible for the good or bad condition of the roads, and in fact are responsible for every business transaction of the county. At least twice a year the magistrate's office is a very important one and requires men of good judgment.

REPUBLICAN CONTROL IN KANSAS.

The election of Governor Bradley was perhaps in part due to the dissatisfaction of numerous Democrats with the State Policy of their party and their belief—erroneous, but deep-seated—that there was at Frankfort a ring which met only controlled nominations but legislation in the interest of its members, and so the revolt elected the entire Republican State ticket. We did need some reforms and more progress. We had not been always wise in our expenditures and had been extremely foolish in reducing taxation without reducing expenditures, thereby putting the State and all her officers in needs embarrassment. Our road laws were execrable; our charitable institutions needed more careful supervision, and we did have too much politics and too much of it in place. The public officers were honest; our expenditures were not wasteful even if sometimes unwise; our morals were upright and on the whole the State did grow with a steady and gratifying speed.

The last session of the Legislature disappointed the hopes of the people, but for its action the Republicans were only partially responsible for they did not have a majority in the Legislature, and the Republican House did provide for the financial difficulties and if the Democratic Senate had passed the bills sent to it by the House our floating debt would have been by this time in a manageable and fairly satisfactory condition.

But the late election and the position of the sound money Democrats have changed the situation. The Republicans have a clear majority of the Legislature; it can elect a Senator in two days and get that exciting and divisive matter out of the way. The Republican governor can specify in his call what subjects of legislation shall be taken up, the Democratic measures can be disposed of in ten days; proper amendments to our election laws can be adopted; such measures to put down mob violence as the governor may deem necessary will gladly be enacted. So that the Republican Governor can with it afterwards in the power to dictate what subjects of legislation shall be taken up; and the Republican party has been assured by the Sound-Money Democrats that they will render whatever assistance is necessary to put our state in proper financial condition, except for the repeal of a pure and safe ballot, and make the law obeyed everywhere. Can the Republican party of Kentucky govern? Has it wisdom, courage and leadership sufficient for the emergency? If had the power, the opportunity has come to it; let us try it.

Kentucky is now under republican rule and that party is justly [illegible] responsible [illegible] for [illegible] needs correction, [illegible] legislation.—Louisville Press-Transcript.

GOD PITY THE POOR.

The power of nombleation is felt no matter to what direction it is concentrated, but when it oppresses the poor at a season when [illegible] and hunger cannot be avoided, something should be done to crush it. The telegraph announces that there will be a reduction in the production of cotton cloth to the amount of nearly a million pieces a week will cut the working force 33 per cent., and this is accomplished through the combination of employers in a general meeting. Some of these mills could run full time and find a constant work; but no, the greed of wealth says all must shut down! who can tell the hardships it will bring? Who can tell the misery it will entail with the worst of the winter before us? That times are hard before no one is disputing the fact. McKinleyism or Brahmism are not brought into question when the people are suffering. There must be relief, come from whatever source it may, and it will be welcomed. With the workingman at work all will be happy, and true heads should get together to speak the truth, combine and by concentrations of wealth that is responsible in a great measure for the times.—Pedneah News.

ANOTHER lynching occurred in Kentucky last week. A negro named Bob. Morton went on a visiting note to Miss Fannie Johnson, of Reckfield, Warren county, and a lynching party took him and quickly hanged him to a tree, after a pesse of officers had put him under arrest.

—The great sun spot that created so much interest in the earth during the month of January, said by Prof. Brooks, director of the Smith Observatory, of Geneva, New York, to be again visible. It may be seen with the naked eye through the medium of a smoked glass. It is presumed there are some people who have never had a glimpse of another sun spot. If any such desire to make the acquaintance of one of the most distinguished of the planetary gentry, they may now do so by smoking a bit of window pane over a lamp and on a clear day letting a squint at old King Sol.

—River men are thoroughly aroused against the new order of Supervising Inspector General Jas. A. Dumont concerning the extra life boats and life-saving apparatus which it would require boats to carry. They say it would be all right with sea going vessels, but would swamp river craft, and is, besides altogether unnecessary because steamboats are near shore all the time they can easily be run into the bank in case of accident and do so in much less time than it would take to lower a lot of boats. The order is so unnecessary and its provisions so unjust that a vigorous protest has been made against its enforcement by river men.

BE KNEW.

The new woman orator waxed eloquent.

"And what," she demanded, as she came to the climax, "is to be the result of our emancipation?"

She looked around with the calm assurance of one who had asked a poser, and this was too much for the little man who was waiting for his wife in a far corner of the hall.

"I knew!" he shouted.

"Ah!" returned the new woman as she the platform scorefully, "the little man with the bald head thinks he has solved the problem that we come here to discuss this afternoon. We will gladly give our attention while he tells us what is to be the result."

"Cold dinners and ragged children," roared the little man

—There is no truer saying than the following from an exchange: No sane man will deny the essential and immutable distinctions between right and wrong. A man who is morally wrong cannot be politically right by changing political or social position. To become right he must change his principles. These distinctions lie at the foundation of all moral character and social organization. A bad man can no more become a good man by a change of circumstances than by a change of clothes. Let no one get confused on this simple application of the principles of morality.

THE movement for good citizenship is in every way worthy of encouragement. That a country's stability and progress depend on the integrity and intelligence of its citizens no one will deny. Many of us are too careless about our knowledge of governments. Every farmer's fireside and every schoolhouse should be a forum of discussion of these subjects that are coming for attention. There should be magazine clubs, economic libraries and public addresses, that general education of the people may be made as able to de the work required to perpetuate a great nation.—Haudaraau Gleaner.

—There seems to be a prevalent idea among some people, says the Breckinridge News, that a newspaper is always glad to get anything to print, just so it is something to "fill up." Perhaps nothing more erroneous was ever imagined. A newspaper is glad to get the news at all times—items of interest that are not belittling its mission unless it prints the news. But it is often a mere perplexing question as to what to leave out when it is put in. It shall get matter to put in. It cannot afford to print long articles just for the edification of a few people. Its task is to interest the general public.

THE fact that there is never a [illegible] for a crime [illegible] by a variety of feminine admirers is a [illegible] grosslee his crime the greater the variety of his admirers—has caused a member of the Minnesota Legislature to introduce a bill which is calculated to suppress these abnormos for crime. The bill provides that "Any person who shall give, or offer to give, or lend flowers, or any other tokens of sympathy or admiration to, or in favor of any prisoner, charged with a crime amounting to a felony, or is under or awaiting sentence for a crime amounting to a felony, shall, unless such person stand in the relation of husband, wife, child, parent, brother or sister to such criminal accused, or is an ordained minister of the gospel, be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on such conviction be fined or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than fifteen nor more than ninety days, or by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100."

TWICE-A-WEEK COURIER JOURNAL

Beginning the first of the new year, the Weekly Courier-Journal, of Louisville, Ky., will be changed to the Twice-a-week Courier-Journal. It will be published Wednesday and Saturday mornings. The paper will be six pages, or twelve pages a week, instead of ten pages as heretofore, an increase of full column of matter during the year. The Wednesday issue will be devoted exclusively to news of politics, while the Saturday issue will be strictly a family newspaper, containing literature, stories, poetry, pictures, poetry, sketches, etc.

The politics of this paper will not be changed, but the Democratic principles advocated by the Courier-Journal will be observed, and the fight for pure Democracy and true Democratic principles will be waged unceasingly in the future as in the past. In spite of the expense involved in the improvement and the price of the twice-a-week Courier Journal will remain the same, $1 per year. Liberal cash premiums to agents or old subscribers who send in new ones. A feature during 1897 will be a series of letters from Mr. Henry Watterson on political and other topics of the day.

There is not in all Fulton county, or any other county, a cleverer, more liberal or generous man, than Mr. Adams, or a truer Democrat. We believe him to be well qualified. His precinct is small, never had a county office, and Mr. Adams' friends now appeal to the magnanimity and fair dealing of the voters for the recognition of a worthy citizen of the Bend precinct.

—The Elizabethtown News remarks that the people who are directing so much of their attention to mob law would do better to investigate the courts, the juries and the criminal lawyers, for without a technical construction of the law by the judges, mandlin sentiment on the part of jurors and rascality and trickery on the part of the criminal lawyers there would be no necessity for mob law. Correct the evil that produces mob violence, the failure of justice in the courts, and mob violence would disappear.
